German Socialist Unity Party Faces Disaster

Berlin, Nov. 30. The Socialist Unity Party in Berlin was to-day facing a first class crisis with the imminent breakaway of a large group of its leaders to the Social-Democrat Party, according to a high executive of the Unity

The split, which will probably include some members of the newlyelected Berlin Parllament, expected to form practically the death blow of the Socialist Unity Party, which cost its Soviet sponsors much prestigo in the elections when it lagged for behind the Social-Democrat Party in all zones, including the Russian sector, where It was formed whider Soviet inspiration by merging the Communists and Social-Democrats.

It is felt that the brenknway would have great consequences I the Russian zone, where the Social-Democrat Party and Communist Party as individual parties have not been allowed to operate as such since their merger.-Reuter.

New Plan For Palestine Suggested To Britain

FEDERALISATION INTO ARAB, JEWISH AND BRITISH GOVT AREAS

Jerusalem, Dec. 2.

The usually reliable and well-informed Hebrew Socialist newspaper Mishmar of Telaviv yesterday published what it said was a new Palestine plan suggested by the Palestine Government to the British government.

The plan was put forward, said Mishmar, as a suggested basis for future Anglo-Arab, and Anglo-Jewish discussions to achieve at least a temporary solution to the Palestine problem.

Mishmar said that the main points of the plan include 1, the British mandate to run another 15 years with new discussions thereafter; 2, immigration of 100,000 Jews to be permitted within the next 18 months; 3, Palestine to be "federalised" administratively into Arab, Jewish and British Government areas, the latter including places of special

BLOOD CAN BE DRICLEANED FEW weeks ago nine-

A year-old Anthony Leigh Milne, of Lytham St. Anne's, Lancs, was taken to hospital desperately ill with a burst appendix, which was followed by an abscess.

He had two operations in teu days and was given both penicillin and sulfa drugs (M. and B.). But his condition was so serious that the dectors gave no hope of hi recovery. His parents agreed as a last resort to an experimental blood irradiation operation. It had already been tried successfully on a mother suffering from puerperal septicaemia.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY

Blood irradiation is a medical technique in the battle against germs which has been extensively tested in the United States. Research into it has gone for 23 years and 17,000 patients had been treated with it up to September 1944. Many of them are claimed to have been saved when they were apparently dying, after the failure of all known chemicals, including sulfa drugs, but not penicillin, for which no comparative tests, are yet available.

In Britain and the Empire the dectors in-

One senter Asiatic officer close to retirement age was promoted to the rank of Andriant Superintendent of Police a post formerly reserved was incultably compared with that of an Asinto doctor who was recently promoted to the highest medical grade after he had indicated his intention to resign.

Speaking at the annual dinner of the Alumni Association of the King Edward VII College of Medicine, Dr W. J. Vickers, Director of Medical Services, said: "Details of what 'I may well term a new Medical Charter, are being worked out at this moment, Unfortunately this operation takes time and means still more patience on the part of my Government colleagues. They have shown an exemplary patience already."

Dr Vickers also promised im-Singaporo's medical services would government, give the Colony a hospital and teaching organization equal to that in Great Britada.

Replying to Dr Vickers, Dr Sir. Han Hoe Lim, CBE, member of the Singapore Advisory Council, said hospital staffs had been so numerous as to cause concern, as many patients had to be turned away he has no intention of doing so, through lack of staff.

Europe Looks Forward To Good Christmas

London, Dec. 1. Europe is looking forward to the best Christmas for seven years, and although high prices roign for virtually all requisites for the festive season, the prospect is that the first Christmas free from the shadow of war will see brighter hearths, better toys, and more inviting foods.

From Brita 2, France, Italy and occupied Germany, Associated Presa correspondents reported that while the black market would confinue to benefit, the consumer would be able to obtain something for the hollday through legitimate channels,

Frenchmen have a better chance of a good Christmas dinner than for several years. Hundreds of restaurants have re-opened in the Paris area, many of them serving excellent meals at moderate prices. The food situation is better in Italy and Germany. Grocery and delicatessen stores are packed with food in Rome, while in Berlin, the ration is higher in the Anglo-American zones than it has since the end of the war-1,550 calories a day for the normal consumer, and food packages are arriving from abroad.

Focal Point Of War In China Moves To Wanchuria

Nanking, Dec. 1. The focal point in China's civil war moved northward into wintry Manchuria, as military observers indicated that the first large-scale battles were expected in the north-east provinces, rather than around the Communist capital of Yenan. With the return of Gen Tu Yu-ming to Mukden, Chinese reports reaching Nanking again emphasised the danger of general fighting breaking out in areas where the Communists and Government troops have been sparring without heavy engagements for many weeks.

U.S. MAY CUT JAPANESE REPARATIONS

Tokyo, Nov. 30. The possibility that the final United States proposal on the reparation programme for Japan will be more lenient than that outlined by President Truman's envoy Mr Edwin Paulcy, was surmised by an gestions from interested American Governmental agencies might result in compromises of the plan.

Pauley sent to President Truman his suggestions for American policy on reparations, recommending Allied removal of three-fourths of Japan's iron, steel and machine tool industries. The President relayed the plan to interested Senate and House committees.

The source here said he had information that certain United States agencies as the Senate. War and Navy, had views on Japanese reparations which are less all-embracing than Paulcy's. He said he believed that some of these agencies a bloc would be improbable, might suggest that the Japanese be allowed to retain more industrial capacity than Paulcy would permit.

Any compromise on the Pauley the recent parliamentary remarks on figures, however, the source pointed out, would be an all-American - The Government said it supported agreement and might not influence the Far Eastern Commission which will make the final reparations decisions.

One source to-day said that no order has yet been received to begin reparations removals, although such a programme could get under way immediately.

In this connection, there was an unconfirmed report that China has discussed with the United States Export-Import Bank the financing for Chinese removal of their reparations from Japan in ships supplied by the United States Maritime Commission.—Associated Press.

Paris Becomes Black Marketeers' Paradise

Paris, Nov. 29. Post-war Paris has become the black marketers' paradise. Rotions issued to the French people are not sufficient to supply their wants, and those wants are many because they have suffered deprivation too long. The result is they go to the black murket with a devil-may-cure nonchhlance.

The attitude of the average Frenchman is that thrift is out of the window. He is not interested in saving money because he has no worth anything when he wants to enjoy it. Despite his memories of defeat and occupation, and not-withstanding his scepticism as to the future, the Frenchman is full of his characteristic cheer and galety, and this spirit contributes to the black Savoy Hetel was still counting letmarket.
